Notes:

1. The cutoffs have been determined using the criterion as announced at <https://www.mtai.org.in/ioqm-2024/> (announcement dated 12th October) after removing the candidates who wrote from the “probationary centres” from the list of participants (see announcement dated 20th October). Note that a candidate may get a national certificate, or a regional certificate, or both, or none.
2. There are no certificates awarded by MTA for mere participation in RMO. Some candidates who were eligible to participate in RMO’2024 are not eligible for either the national, or the regional certificate to be awarded for IOQM’2024.
3. Candidates will be able to download their certificates from the official IOQM website <https://ioqm.manageexam.com/> by this month (November) end, please wait for a suitable announcement. Note that the candidates who wrote the exam from a probationary centre will be able to download certificates only against a self-declaration stating that they have not indulged in any malpractice. More details regarding the self-declaration will be made available once the certificates become available for download.
4. Region codes for most students can be identified by looking at first two digits after the alphabets in the roll number. HOWEVER there are some exceptions to this rule (eg. roll numbers beginning with OS32, but also a few others!), and they should check the official website to determine their eligibility once the certificates are available for downloads.
